Dear Dr. Risser:

Thank you for providing me with the recent Adaptation for Climate-Sensitive Ecosystems and Resources Advisory Committee's review of Synthesis and Assessment Product 4.4(SAP 4.4): Adaptation for Climate-Sensitive Ecosystems and Resources. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency appreciates the ACSERAC members' many thoughtful and constructive recommendations.

The EPA lead authors on this report, Susan Julius and Jordan West, as well as the other lead authors, are in the process of addressing ACSERAC's recommendations and will be implementing many of the Committee's suggestions. The National Center for Environmental Assessment in the EPA Office of Research and Development has prepared a detailed response to the major recommendations (enclosed) that addressed the charge questions.

Again, thank you for your efforts in reviewing SAP 4.4 on Adaptation. Your recommendations will contribute greatly to our important work.

Sincerely,
